PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Jim Olds, President, IIA-Beach Cities Chapter

Hello everyone, we are now on the home stretch for our Chapter year. We have been working hard on our two big events in March and April, the professional seminar and the Student Night, respectively. While both were a bit smaller than last year, they were very informative and successful. We had many firm sponsors to support our students and Jason Nishiyama did a super job speaking about the internal audit profession. Thanks to all who helped us – Sher Shah, William Yu, Kathryn Andrus, Jean and Don Miller, and Kari Carroll just to name a few. We couldn’t have done these signature events without you all. Big-time kudos to our team!!! Our last regular Chapter meeting is just a few days away and will be held at the Ramada – LAX on Wednesday May 30. Please plan to join us for this great event. Also, William Yu, our Webmaster, attended the IIA Leadership Training back in Orlando and brought back some good ideas we will try to put in place to improve our Chapter operations. We continue to donate to the IIA’s Research Foundation to fund internal audit research and advance the profession. Thanks to all for supporting Beach Cities. I would also like to recognize our incoming Chapter President Robert Campbell, who has stepped up to help us for 2018-19, just as he has in years past with various speaking topics. It’s going to be another great Platinum year under Robert’s leadership”.

All the Best,
Jim Olds

Vinny Troia  Cyber Security Expert, Ethical Hacker & CEO of Night Lion Security – Monday, June 25, 2018

Vinny has been hacking his way around systems since he was 10 years old, back when 2400 baud modems and were considered cutting edge technology. Troia has since refined his underground IT skills to include a breadth of knowledge that spans his expertise across security, management, development and administration of inter-connected systems.

Having spent nearly a decade engineering and architecting security systems for the U.S. Department of Defense, Troia has become one of the media’s top go-to experts on cyber-related controversies. Now, global news networks including Fox News, CNBC, ABC, CNN and Fox Business, regularly invite Troia to participate in on-air discussions pertaining to major corporate data breaches, cyber law and legislation, airline and automobile hacking, and cyber-related scandals.

In 2014, Troia used his ever-increasing national media presence as a platform to establish and launch his company, Night Lion Security. Troia has a PhD from Capella University, the topic of his dissertation is the NIST Cybersecurity Framework. Additionally, McAfee Global Technologies (MGT), announced Troia's recent appointment to MGT's prestigious Hacker Advisory Board.

"Know Your Adversary" A live Hack simulation using NSA digital weapons

When NSA's digital armory was leaked, it was only a matter of time before the code was morphed into a ransom seeking worm. What do these tools mean for the average user? How can they protect themselves? This talk aims to educate the audience by providing a history of these digital weapons, a demonstration of how they are used, and a demonstration a LIVE HACK of a virtual environment. We will show the ease in which these digital weapons can be downloaded and used by a novice user to infiltrate even the most secure networks, and we will provide users with a better understanding of how they can secure their company systems against these and future attacks.

“There is no greater cyber security talent in any company on the planet.”
