A philosopher once said, “Embrace uncertainty. Some of the most beautiful chapters in our lives won’t have a title until much later.” With uncertainty in abundance, it’s impossible to know what we’ll title this chapter in our lives. Right now, it’s important to step back, take a breath, and remind each other we will get through this. The Coronavirus and its associated illness, Covid-19, are driving uncertainty throughout the globe. However, this is an important time for the Internal Audit Profession to continue to demonstrate our resilience, reliability, and effectiveness to the fullest.

Although we face extraordinary issues in the industries that constitute our membership, I am confident that we will persevere and grow stronger. While we have not met face to face for many months now, we have been able to keep our members connected, informed, and engaged with monthly virtual events that are complimentary or at a very low cost. In order to support the Internal Audit profession, our education programs will continue in a virtual format till we determine it is safe to commence in person events. In light of the continuing remote working environment, the IIA is offering a variety of virtual options again this month. Learn more by accessing the Complete 2020 Training Calendar.

It is refreshing to note that in this period, precisely in July 2020, the IIA unveiled the new Three Lines Model, offering a different perspective to the venerable Three Lines of Defense. The Three Lines Model promises to change the way many organizations look not just at risk, but also at controls, collaboration, communication, accountability, assurance, and more. Download your FREE copy today. You can further explore the Three Lines Evolution with the three-part video conversation between Harold Silverman, Managing Director of CAE Services, and Jenitha John, The IIA’s Global Chairman, 2020–21, watch the videos now.

To continue to reach you with important updates, we ask that you please update your member profile to reflect your most recent contact information. We will continue to work hard and creatively to sustain and flourish this chapter, serve you better and advance our mission.

Don’t let the opportunity pass to be a part of the team. Our board and committees are made up of dedicated volunteers. I’ll be honest, it does require an investment in time and energy to fulfill expectations. Our members have entrusted us to make decisions that advance and protect our profession and this service is truly an honor. With today’s busy schedules, it can be difficult to find people with enough time to serve, and without qualified volunteers we would not be able to provide you with the value you deserve. Send an email to the chapter inbox today, if you are interested in being a volunteer.

Please continue to stay safe, reassure young ones, and help older folks who need it. Remember to wash your hands and wear your mask. Enjoy the rest of summer and stay strong. I’ll be in touch in the fall.

Thank you for your dedication and support!

Your IIA Calgary Chapter President
Lizeel Pistorius
