Welcome to the 2020-2021 Central Ohio Chapter year! What a start it has been, definitely unlike any other. The officers and I have been working diligently to figure out how to plan this year given all the change and uncertainty in our environment, and I am happy with the strategy we have developed. I am honored and blessed to be your President for the chapter year and look forward to navigating through this extraordinary time. I have been in risk management for close to 15 years and an officer of the Central Ohio Chapter for over five years, working my way up from Assistant Treasurer though all the ranks to now President. I could not be prouder to be leading the chapter this year.

These are challenging times for everyone, with expense pressures, re-structurings, and job losses. However, in challenging times there is also opportunity. I believe we can learn and grow as an organization and a profession and see long-term benefits as a result. The Central Ohio Chapter had never done a virtual training prior to May of this year and now we will be doing all virtual trainings for the foreseeable future. We are learning, growing and stretching into new places. One benefit of virtual is that our cost is lowered, so our goal this year is to give back to our members and offer free and/or reduced cost trainings throughout the year. Visit our chapter website to register for upcoming trainings, including our signature “one day” Internal Audit Innovation event that will be broken out into two half days this year given the virtual format. We also have IIA representatives scheduled to speak in September about the updated Three Lines Model that was recently released, which we are happy to offer as a free event.

In closing, I am sure many of you are aware that Richard Chambers is stepping down as the IIA President and CEO in March, which will bring even more change, making the theme this year “the year of change”! These times push us to embrace change, be agile, and show our value, which I believe will benefit the IIA and the Internal Audit profession in the long term.

I look forward to “seeing” many of you at our upcoming events this year.

Certified Internal Auditor® (CIA®) Challenge Exam

As part of the IIA’s continued commitment to the professional development of those who hold an active status CCSA, CFSA, or CGAP designation as of 31 December 2018, The IIA is offering a limited-time CIA Specialty Challenge Exam for qualified individuals.

More information on the exam can be found at: https://na.theiia.org/certification/Pages/Certification-Transition.aspx#CIA%20Challenge%20Exam

The CIA is The IIA’s premier, globally recognized certification for internal auditing. Having CIA after your name proves your credibility and proficiency. Now is the optimum time for those who are qualified to take advantage of the CIA Specialty Challenge Exam.

Check out the IIA website for more information on the CIA and the IIA’s other internationally recognized certifications at: https://na.theiia.org/certification/Pages/Certification.aspx
On August 25, 2020, the Central Ohio Chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors announced that the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) recently recognized Board Member Dr. Skip Langlois as NACD Directorship Certified. NACD Certified Directors, who earn NACD Directorship Certification, signal to boards, investors, and other stakeholders that they possess the highest commitment to continuing director education available in the United States.

The NACD Directorship Certification program, the only program of its kind in the United States, provides a tangible assessment of a director’s understanding of the essential knowledge required to lead in today’s boardrooms. Certification also facilitates continuous learning, and allows directors to showcase their governance knowledge to the companies they serve and to other stakeholders in the broader governance community.

“I am honored to join the distinguished and diverse group of individuals who make up the NACD Directorship Certification community and who are committed to advancing the highest standards of boardroom excellence,” said Skip. “The information I’ve learned and verified via NACD’s certification program are key assets to the companies I serve, as well as to my professional growth as a director.”

Dr. Langlois is a Vice President and the Chief Audit Executive for Encova Insurance. In addition to being a board member for the Central Ohio Chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors, he is a board and audit committee member of the Ohio FAIR Plan and a board member for the Charleston, West Virginia headquartered Pioneer West Virginia Federal Credit Union. Besides numerous insurance industry and other professional certifications and designations, Skip is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Certified Internal Auditor (CIA), Certified Information Systems Auditor (CISA) and a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE). He has over 24 years of experience in auditing and is a United States Coast Guard veteran with 12 years of service. He has Bachelors’ degrees from the United States Coast Guard Academy and Strayer University, Master’s degrees in Business Administration and Professional Accountancy from the University of South Dakota and a Doctor in Executive Leadership from West Virginia’s University of Charleston.

“NACD Certified Directors demonstrate their keen awareness that directorship is a profession that, like all professions, requires continuous learning,” said Peter R. Gleason, NACD’s CEO. “Skip is leading the way in achieving and maintaining the highest credential available to directors in the United States.”
