Become a Certification Study Buddy

Research shows that when people study together it helps with their learning process, therefore join the Certification Study Buddy group to be paired up with two or more individuals that can be your study buddy and accountability partner.

Some of the things Certification Study Buddies would do are the following:

- Text or call each other at least once every two weeks to check see if their buddy is studying
- Schedule at least one study session with their study buddy a month (physical meeting or via conference call)
- Share study tips and materials to help each other pass certification exams
- Be willing to offer encouragement to their buddy throughout the certification study and testing process

We would like to encourage IIA Memphis Chapter members to sign up to be Certification Study Buddies! You can sign up by simply sending name and your email address to the IIAMemphis@gmail.com.
