On your primary email address. To be required to use their primary email address. In the new CCMS, individuals will require all certified individuals and in 2019, and you.

Steve Bacchetti, CPA, CIA, CCA from Moss Adams
Steve primarily focuses on construction and performance audits for capital improvement projects. Steve works closely with universities, K-12 school bond programs, hospitals, tribes and non-profits on performance and capital improvement projects. Steve has over 25 years of experience, over half of which in the public sector, including his experience as the Director of Audits for the Port of Seattle.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
• Knowledge of the criteria for establishing a fraud prevention program
• Awareness of the most common types of fraud in public sector organizations
• Understanding of the role of the auditor and management in fraud prevention
• Ability to identify potential fraud indicators and take action to prevent fraud

IMPORTANT: New CIA CEs in 2019

This new criterion-based self-assessment management system (CCMS) has been implemented in 2019. Individuals who have completed an examination for credit earned in 2019 will be able to determine their number of required CEs based on their examination score. Individuals who have completed an examination for credit earned in 2019 and have not yet determined their number of required CEs will be able to do so in the future. The number of required CEs will be based on the number of required CE hours earned in 2019.

The tentative date is Wednesday, March 6; however, the planning committee is still in process of finalizing details. In the meantime, if your organization plans to hire interns or permanent positions in 2019, and you would like to provide students with information about the career opportunities, please let us know. You are also welcome to register and attend the event as a professional (it is free!). As fellow professionals, we encourage you to share your industry expertise and provide guidance to our students.

The Institute of Management Accountants (IMA) is a global association of professionals who support the management profession and/or jobs and internships in Internal Audit.

The student night will be open to students from all universities and colleges in the region to learn about the internal audit profession.