Hello San Diego IIA Chapter,

Our first Student Night was held on November 10, 2016 at National University. I’m glad to inform you that it was a great success. A big thanks to the IIA members that participated in the panel discussion and thanks to all who attended and made this event a success. If you missed it, you will have the opportunity to participate in our next student event to be held in the spring. More information will be posted on our website, as it becomes available.

Also, we had a great luncheon discussion on “Ethics in the Workplace” presented by the County of San Diego, Office of Ethics and Compliance. We had excellent reviews and positive feedback from the members that attended.

We are now getting ready for our next event in December. We will have a complimentary holiday luncheon with a great presentation on “Leadership Matters” by PWC. This event will also be a holiday toy drive to benefit It’s All About the Kids Foundation. This Foundation is a non-profit organization that creates charity programs for less fortunate children and their families in San Diego and Tijuana. I encourage you all to attend, enjoy a great lunch, earn CPE credits, and make a child happy by donating a toy.

Another call for volunteers…please, if you have the desire to contribute to the IIA, we will appreciate your participation. Please feel free to contact me laura.flores@sdcounty.ca.gov if you are interested in becoming part of our family of volunteers.

We look forward to seeing you in December and don’t forget to bring a new, unwrapped toy!

Happy Thanksgiving.

Laura Flores
President

The Election’s Over, Now What? Understanding Washington’s Agenda for Public Policy Change for 2017

December 20, 2016  1:00–2:00 p.m. ET

A polarizing election creates enormous challenges for a new president and Congress tasked with finding solutions that will bridge the nation’s political, economic, social, and cultural divides. The business environment of the next decade promises to be shaped by the regulatory and legislative actions emerging from Washington over the next two years. Join the Arnold & Porter Legislative and Regulatory team, which represents The IIA and its members’ interests in Washington, to understand how the outcome of this election will drive policy changes that present extraordinary business risks and opportunities. In addition to a broad review of the election’s impact on the business world, we will take a more in-depth look at the changes coming in several highly regulated industries: tax, financial services, insurance, health care, life sciences, and energy.

Learning Objectives

- You will gain an understanding of the post-election landscape of Congress and the executive branch.
- You will see a more in-depth analysis of what changes may be coming in several highly regulated industries such as: tax, financial services, insurance, health care, life sciences, and energy.
- A look into how the election will shape the issues policymakers take on in 2017 more broadly.

Course Duration: 1 hour
CPE Hours Available: 1
Knowledge Level: Intermediate
Field of Study: Auditing
Prerequisites: None
Advance Preparation: None
Delivery Format: Internet Group Live
Speakers

Kevin O'Neill
Partner, co-chair of Legislative Group, Arnold & Porter
Kevin O'Neill helps clients understand and navigate federal legislative and executive complexities to further their business objectives. His clients include domestic and foreign corporations, associations, municipal governments, transportation agencies, health care systems, universities, and foreign sovereigns. In the tax and financial services sector, O'Neill has helped companies and associations develop long-term campaigns to advocate for specific policies in comprehensive tax reform legislation and the Dodd-Frank Act. He has also advocated before the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau on behalf of companies and associations affected by rulemakings before that agency.

Charley Landgraf
Partner; co-chair of Legislative Group, Arnold & Porter
Charley Landgraf has extensive experience representing a broad range of clients in the insurance, energy, and real estate industries before Congress and the administration. He has also formed several onshore and offshore captives, and has obtained amendments to various federal environmental, aviation, and maritime statutes for insurer clients in recent years. Landgraf regularly practices before the executive branch, including the Departments of Treasury, Commerce, and Transportation, the Executive Office of the President and federal financial regulatory agencies. He also focuses on regulation of trade in services and international intellectual property law.

Eugenia Pierson
Senior Policy Advisor, Arnold & Porter
Eugenia Pierson assists clients in the development and implementation of legislative and regulatory strategies. As senior policy advisor and head of health care legislative advocacy, her work focuses on health policy issues related to hospital systems, providers, consumers and manufacturers, including Medicare coverage and reimbursement, Medicaid, the State Children's Health Insurance Program, public health, insurance coverage, delivery system reform, health information technology, and implementation of national health care reform. Pierson began her career on Capitol Hill as a staff member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee's Health Subcommittee. She later served as the former chair of an Am Law 100 firm's Healthcare Policy practice group.

Dana Weekes
Associate, Arnold & Porter
Dana Weekes provides strategic counsel to clients to advance their policy goals on Capitol Hill and within the Executive Branch on issues affecting various sectors including food and agriculture, energy, technology, education, appropriations, and federal grants. In helping her clients navigate the federal government to address major challenges or secure key opportunities, Weekes develops both traditional and innovative ways for her clients to strategically engage both policy decision-makers and policy influencers. She also works with clients on legislative and regulatory issues governed by various major legislation and reauthorizations, including the Farm Bill, the annual appropriations bills, Child Nutrition Act, Food and Drug Administration Amendments Act of 2007, Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007, NASA reauthorization, Higher Education Act, Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Career and Technical Education Act, and the Family Educational Rights Protection Act.

Samantha Martin
Public Policy Specialist, Arnold & Porter
Samantha Martin advises a range of clients including companies, associations, universities, municipalities, and transportation authorities on a variety of legislative and policy matters. She assists clients in the development of strategic plans to raise their national profile and identify federal funding opportunities, while also monitoring and analyzing relevant legislative and administration movement for her clients. Martin also provides strategic counsel to clients who are developing large-scale advocacy events as well as those in need of rapid response crisis management efforts. As part of Martin's narrower policy practice, she can offer counsel on a range of areas including appropriations, higher education, workforce development, energy, trade, telecommunications, Title IX issues, and federal grants.

The program, referred to as CAP, requires each chapter to tally the different activities in which its members participate that promote the IIA. For example, achievement points may be earned for presentations given by Chapter members or for the number of participants that attend a sponsored or cosponsored IIA Chapter event. The CAP program is the IIA’s Business Score Card used to monitor and recognize the activities of the local chapters that promote the strategic objectives of the IIA.

Throughout the year, the achievement program monitors and scores each chapter’s participation in the following three service categories:

- Service to Members
- Service to the Profession
- Chapter Administration

At the end of the year, CAP evaluates the success of each chapter’s efforts through use of four performance level classifications:

- BRONZE: 685 achievement credits
- SILVER: 1,060 achievement credits
- GOLD: 1,560 achievement credits
- PLATINUM: a chapter achieving GOLD status 10 of 11 years

In order to become the top scorer, compared to larger chapters in the United States, we need your assistance in tracking the CAP points we have earned.

The CAP section of our newsletter serves to provide an awareness of member activities that promote the profession and/or membership for which we can receive CAP points. Each month we will highlight the types of activities that can earn us points as well as provide an update on our progress!

If you are aware of chapter membership activities that will earn us CAP points or have any questions regarding the CAP program, please contact John Lefter at John.Lefter@sharp.com.

If you have presented any materials that resulted in the award of CPE, have published any articles or have any other activities that you believe may qualify for CAP points, please let us know and we will be more than happy to work through the detail.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Audit Committee Reporting: A Guide for Internal Auditing

How does internal auditing deliver clear messages to the audit committee—messages that support good governance and deliver on internal audit’s mission? Audit Committee Reporting: A Guide for Internal Auditing not only answers this question, but also provides a comprehensive approach to audit committee reporting.

This book:
• Covers reporting on internal audit planning, results of audits, issue tracking, investigations, and internal audit operations.
• Includes reporting that educates and contributes to organizational strategy.
• Offers clear explanations, insightful strategies, and examples that are supported by exhibits and discussions of emerging practices.

Every organization that needs to assure stakeholders that their risks are assessed and managed and their internal controls are sound and functional will find Audit Committee Reporting: A Guide for Internal Auditing to be helpful.

Senior Accountant

The Senior Accountant is the advanced working and lead level class in the professional accountant series and reports to Supervising Accountants or Principal Accountants. This class is utilized in operating departments of the County requiring extensive technical knowledge and the exercise of independent judgment to perform difficult and complex accounting or auditing work. Senior Accountants may act in a lead capacity or as a project leader over lower level professional, paraprofessional and clerical staff but have primary responsibility for the accomplishment of specific accounting or auditing assignments.

The Senior Accountant class is distinguished from the Supervising Accountant in that the latter typically has complete supervisorial control over professional, paraprofessional and clerical staff for a functional unit within department's accounting operations.

Senior Information Systems Auditor

Scripps Health is a nonprofit health care system based in San Diego, California. The system includes four hospitals and 19 outpatient facilities, and treats a half-million patients annually through 2,600 affiliated physicians. For the ninth year in a row, Scripps Health landed on Fortune Magazine’s list of America’s 100 Best Companies to Work For.

We currently have a full-time opening for a Senior Information Systems Auditor to work within our Internal Audit team. Reporting to the Manager, Internal Audit, who reports to the Director of Internal Audit, the Senior Information Systems Auditor plans and conducts Information Technology and integrated audit projects based on risk assessments of Scripps Health information resources.

Want to be noticed by a highly qualified pool of over 500 CIAs, CPAs, and MBAs? You can be by posting your job on our website. Jobs are also included here in our monthly newsletters.
