President’s Message

Season’s Greetings to Everyone!

As I thought about what to write in this message, I began to think back through the past year. Like many of you, the last year was very busy and filled with lots of changes for my family and me. Not only did I transition from 1st VP to the current President, learning the new responsibilities and accepting new challenges; I also changed jobs, and my wife and I welcomed a new baby boy to our already bustling home! Your 1st VP, Kip Bloss, also experienced lots of changes this past year as he too learned the responsibilities of his new role and accepted the challenge of planning our speakers for the year. Kip also changed jobs and welcomed a new baby to his household, as he and his wife serve as temporary caregivers to children in need. Both of us learned new things from the challenges these changes brought into our lives.

I am sure that this year was filled with many exciting changes and new challenges for a lot you which goes to show that the 400 year old quote by François de la Rochefoucauld, and repeated by Steve Nash upon joining the Lakers holds true: “The only thing constant in life is change”. I know, I know, that is terribly cheesy and you’ve heard it a thousand times, but you cannot deny its truth or the importance of change in our lives. When we experience change, we experience life. When we accept change and the challenges it brings, we can learn so much and experience tremendous growth.

As your year comes to a close, I ask that you set aside some time to think about your past year. Think about the changes in your life and the challenges that you faced. Think about those challenges and what you learned. Think about how you can use what you learned to move forward into a new year and continue to grow. One of our most valuable skills is to learn from our experience and use what we learn to simply “Get Better”.

Thanks to all of you, this was an exciting and successful year for the chapter. We continue to experience great attendance at our monthly meetings and socials, and we are well on our way to hopefully another successful chapter year as an IIA Platinum Chapter. I appreciate all of your support and participation as chapter members. Our main goal as chapter leaders is to do our best to ensure that our chapter serves our members and serves our profession. I hope that we have done so this past year and hope that we can continue into 2013.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all of you! Please be safe and I look forward to seeing you at our next meeting on January 10th.

Cloud Computing
David Losacco, CPA, CIA, CISA

- What is the Cloud?
- How long has it been here?
- Where is it going?

We will explore the mythical “Cloud” using the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) cloud model and learn five essential characteristics, three service models, and four deployment models. We will also discuss concerns and risks of going to the cloud, as well as several items to be aware of prior to moving that direction.

David is a Principal with Stinnett & Associates, LLC. He has over 16 years of experience performing control reviews over information technology and application process controls and has performed assurance work in various industries, including energy with heavy upstream focus, manufacturing, construction, and telecommunications. Throughout his career, David has focused on providing clients value added services in both business process and IT related controls.

As the Information Technology controls lead for Stinnett, David is responsible for all IT audits and services provided to clients across all industries. These diverse services include data analytics; IT application controls reviews; ERP software selection; business continuity and disaster recovery assessments; vendor audits; IT general controls reviews; and IT security reviews. Additionally, David has conducted numerous successful Sarbanes-Oxley reviews as both the external auditor and in the client management role. This experience has provided David with a unique perspective on Sarbanes-Oxley rules and requirements.

David is a speaker for professional organizations and conferences such as the Institute of Internal Auditors, the Institute of Managerial Accountants, and EEI Internal Audit Conference. He is a Certified Public Accountant, a Certified Internal Auditor, and a Certified Information Systems Auditor. David is also a member of the Oklahoma Society of CPAs and the Institute of Internal Auditors.
AUDITOR OF THE YEAR AWARD ESTABLISHED MAY 1970

The very first “Auditor of the Year” was awarded by the Tulsa Chapter in May 1970 to L. Joe Beaver. Each year since that time the Tulsa Chapter has made the award to a deserving member who has made exemplary contributions in service to the Tulsa Chapter.

The “Auditor of the Year” is determined by the Tulsa Chapter Officers and Board of Governors using a two-cycle process. The first round is nomination by the Officers and Governors of one or more Chapter members. Criteria for the Auditor of the Year Award are:

1. Cannot be a Chapter Officer.
2. Must be an active member of the Tulsa Chapter IIA.
3. Has made quality contributions to the Tulsa Chapter as a result of their own initiative and attitude in the past year.
4. May or may not have been responsible for a chair position or an officially assigned activity of the Tulsa Chapter.
5. Character, integrity, work, family and community achievements or activities can be considered.

Once all nominations for the Award are submitted, the second round involves distribution to the Chapter Officers and Governors of the list of nominees along with a summary of each nominee’s contributions to the Chapter, community involvement achievements and other comments made with the nomination. The Officers and Governors then vote to select the “Auditor of the Year”.

There have been 44 Auditors of the Year since the Award was started in 1970.

Several Chapter members have been multiple Award winners including:

L. Joe Beaver 1970-71; 1979-80
F. Tom Fanning 1972-73; 1984-85
Cathy Criswell 1995-96; 1996-97; 2002-03; 2006-07; 2008-09
Jennifer Goines 2010-11; 2011-12

The Tulsa Chapter maintains a large “Auditor(s) of the Year(s)” plaque that is engraved with the names of each winner to perpetually recognize their support of excellence for the Tulsa Chapter. The plaque is displayed at the September and May Chapter meetings and other Chapter special events. Please take the opportunity to view the plaque during these meetings to remember all the Award winners back to 1970.
